Thant-Red Cross Parley To Fix Cuban Inspection

Meeting Scheduled Today To Complete Details Of Project

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary-General U Thant meets today with two leaders of the International Committee of the Red Cross—ICRC—to nail down details of a plan for the neutral agency to inspect Cuba-bound Soviet ships for arms.

The Red Cross committee disclosed in Geneva Monday it had received U.N. assurance that Prime Minister Fidel Castro would accept its inspection of ships heading for Cuba.

The committee said arms inspection was normally outside its sphere, but that it could consider lending its good offices to the United Nations as requested by Thant.

It said final agreement would hinge on the conference between Thant and Paul Ruegger, former committee president, and Paul Borsinger, secretary of the ICRC executive board.

The United States has agreed to the Soviet proposal to let the Red Cross check on incoming Russian ships. Washington indicated that if the plan went into operation, it would lift its naval arms blockade now ringing Cuba.

Still unsettled, however, was the key question raised by Castro's refusal to let the United Nations, the Red Cross or any other agency conduct inspection on Cuban soil to make sure Soviet missile bases have been dismantled as promised by Premier Khrushchev.

U.S. sources stressed that President Kennedy's assurance that the United States would not invade Cuba depended on tearing down the bases and shipping the rockets back to the Soviet Union and on international verification that this had been done.

Within a day or so U.S. surveillance flights are expected to show whether the Russians are withdrawing the IL28 bombers which are capable of carrying nuclear warheads and have a 750-mile range.

The Pentagon was maintaining an almost complete blackout of news dealing with surveillance results.

Washington sources said there was some indication the work of uncrating the bombers has stopped. They said further surveillance will be necessary to show whether the Russians are withdrawing the planes under Soviet Premier Khrushchev's agreement to remove all offensive weapons from Cuba.

The informants said information reached Washington Saturday that while the Russians were dismantling the missile bases they were continuing to uncrate and assemble the estimated 20 or so IL28s shipped to Cuba.

President Kennedy was reported to have been highly concerned about the report which indicated Khrushchev might be hedging on his part of the crisis agreement.

On Sunday, according to the sources, U.S. representative John J. McCloy took up the matter in New York with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov.

McCloy was understood to have told the Russian the United States wants the planes as well as the missiles removed from Cuba.

India To Bring Home Troops Previously Loaned To U.N.

NEW DELHI (AP)—India plans to bring home its U.N. forces to battle the Chinese Communist invaders, a Foreign Office spokesman announced today.

Indian villagers will also be taught to shoot in the government's hard-pressed efforts to stem a Chinese drive that has overrun 2,000 square miles of borderland and thrust one spearhead into undisputed Indian territory.

India has troops with U.N. forces in both the Congo and the Middle East.

The spokesman indicated that withdrawal of India's well-seasoned brigade of 5,700 men from the U.N. Congo force may still be some time in the future, however.

He said India hopes to pull out this contingent as soon as an agreement is reached between the Congolese central government and secessionist Katanga Province. The two sides still seem far apart on Congo unity.

The spokesman did not say how soon the 1,250-man force serving in Gaza would come home.

He said plans for the withdraw-

Old Home Week

IT WAS A DAY FOR CELEBRATION in Plymouth precinct Tuesday, and voters were flocking to a polling place which was closed four years ago for "economy reasons". Residents of the area waged an unrelenting campaign to have the polling place restored, and the Board of Elections agreed to do just that. Left to right are Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Thompson, Given Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Marks, all waiting to vote, and precinct officials Thomas McDonald and Harold Glass.

Poll May Alter Ag Legislation

GOP Congress Gain May End Farm Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The future pattern of farm legislation may be shaped by today's voting for congressional seats.

Most of those who oppose the Kennedy administration's policy of farm product supply management through farm-approved controls predict that even a modest gain by the Republicans in the House would close the door to additional control laws.

But these same farm and legislative leaders say that should Democrats gain a few seats in the House, possibly as few as five, the administration would have a good chance of broadening farm controls in the next session of Congress.

The administration wants restrictions on feed grains and milk, two commodities not now subject to controls. It also wants a new program for cotton which might well require broader use of government payments, a farm stabilization and income device opposed by many who also are against controls.

Farm organization leaders will have their eyes glued on election results. None more so than the American Farm Bureau Federation, which opposes Kennedy control proposals; the National Grange, which has leaned in the direction of some of the Kennedy plans; and the National Farmers Union, which has supported the President.

When the various farm organizations hold their conventions to draft their own legislative recommendations, they will be guided by the congressional election results.

Train Wreck Kills 20

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A passenger train derailed Monday in entering the station of Kabanovce, in southern Yugoslavia, and more than 20 persons were killed.

50 Million Voters Expected In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An estimated 50 million Americans go to the polls today to cast ballots that may shape the destiny of President Kennedy's New Frontier programs and offer valuable tips on future leaders of the Republican party.

At stake: 39 Senate seats, all 435 House seats and 35 governorships.

Kennedy, trying to set a good example, is in Boston to vote in person.

The weatherman has cooperated with democracy by his prediction: generally dry weather for most of the nation, with scattered rain in the North.

If around 50 million turn out, it will be a new high for these off-year elections. The previous peak, set in 1958, was 47,854,000.

Since 83 million are qualified, no one will be bragging about the record. It's due more to a gain in population than to a more fervid interest in the nation's welfare.

Both sides wound up with the customary trumpeting about a certain victory.

But the final guess is that there will be no clear-cut victory. This would be a fitting end for what has never been a clear-cut campaign, a battle that began chiefly over domestic issues but wound up under the cloud of the Cuban crisis.

The guessing: 1. Republicans may gain a few seats in the House, but nowhere near the 44 they need if they are to gain control.

2. Democrats may pick up a couple of seats in the Senate, but this won't help them much since they already have a 64-36 lead.

3. Republicans will get in their hardest, and most lasting, ticks in the chase for governors. They are favored to win 19 races, the Democrats 16.

If these predictions are true, then after all the sound and the fury, the millions spent, the energy expended, the names called, the situation would boil down to this: Kennedy would be denied the increase in Democrats he says he needs to get his programs through Congress. But since the party in power normally loses seats in these off-year elections, Democrats could find solace in the fact that it wasn't worse.

Republicans would be repulsed in their great objective of 1962, control of the House. But by winning the governorships—especially if they should succeed in such major states as Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio and California—they would be in clover for the presidential race of 1964.

Goal Is $26,500 $22,862.75 Received In 1962 Chest Drive

Fayette County's Community Chest held $22,862.75 Tuesday morning, but the hard pull is still ahead if it is to be filled. The goal this year is $26,500, the same as last year. As of Monday evening the campaign had reached 86 per cent of its goal in cash and pledges.

Perse Harlow, executive secretary, said that to fill the Chest there will have to be some very good reports from solicitors from now on and that increases over last year's contributions will be needed from those still to be contacted.

The campaign got a good boost Monday with a total contribution of $602.50 from 148 employees of Pennington Bread Inc. Harlow said this was three times last year's total.

Two more employee groups qualified for plaques. One went to the 65 city school teachers, who

Politics Heated In Oklahoma

GOP, Dems Clash; Insults, Fists Fly

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Republicans and Democrats clashed in a battle of signs, insults and fists in front of state Democratic headquarters Monday night.

Republicans held a torchlight parade to the courthouse to hear senatorial candidate B. Hayden Crawford, who is opposing Sen. Mike Monroney.

Three elephants had been borrowed from a circus. They didn't catch up until the paraders reached the courthouse, across the street from Democratic headquarters.

The driver of the van unloaded the elephants as Crawford began to speak.

At this point, Crawford said, a man ran out of Democratic headquarters and stuck a Democratic sticker on the back of a Republican car.

"She protested, of course," Crawford said. "Then a gentleman stepped up to defend her and the two men really went at it."

A spokesman for the Democrats told it this way:

A woman stuck a Republican sign on a Democratic headquarters window. A Democratic woman retaliated by pasting a "Vote Democratic" sticker on a Republican car.

A young Republican waved his "club-like" torch at the woman. A 19-year-old Democrat intervened and the two young men exchanged blows.

Police prevented further fighting. They also impounded the elephants.

Nixon-Brown Fuss To End

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Upwards of five million California voters were expected to troop out today to settle the long, quarrelsome contest for governor between Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Republican Richard M. Nixon.

The battle reached a climax with an election eve clash that echoed familiar charges and counter-charges.

Nixon, his political future at stake, told a statewide television audience from Los Angeles that he has been the victim of a malicious smear unlike anything ever seen in American politics. He characterized his opposition as panicky.

Brown replied that his opponent "ascribed to me charges I have never made." He called the broadcast "just a tattered rerun" of Nixon's campaign. Democratic spokesmen said Nixon, trailing in polls, was desperate.

An estimated 70 to 75 per cent of the 7½ million voters will make their choice for the $40,000-a-year state job and its built-in national prestige.

Fayette Turnout 'Above Average'

An above average turnout for an off-year election appeared in the making Tuesday as Fayette County voters went to the polls to elect county, district and state officials.

A spot survey of seven polling places in the city and county at ers, a "good" turnout at the noon hour.

Precinct 3-B, voting at Anders Greenhouses, 335 Oak St., listed 182. This was described as "a little above average" for noon.

Precinct 4-D, voting at the home of Mrs. Inez Bosworth, 610 Sycamore St., reported 68 had voted. The number was described as "very good."

ONLY PRECINCT 2-B, which votes at the William Clark residence, 629 Clinton Ave., listed a "little below average" number of voters. A total of 60 had voted at noon.

Union East Precinct, voting at Eber School, reported 85, a "very good" turnout.

Union West Precinct, voting at Chaffin School, had 91. This was described as "about average."

Lower Point Precinct had 59, "a little ahead of normal." This precinct votes at the Jefferson Insurance Agency, Bloomington.

Polls close at 6:30 p.m. The first precinct is expected to make a telephone report to the Board of Elections between 7 and 7:30 p.m.

Miami Trace Students Vote 'Split Tickets'

A mock election at Miami Trace High School Tuesday morning showed a strong Republican trend at the state and district level with one exception and a swing to Democrats in two contested partisan races at the county level.

The balloting, in which the entire student body participated on a voluntary basis, had been scheduled Monday but was postponed when a heating plant failure closed the school.

Approximately 900 of the 906 MTHS students voted in their home rooms, giving Republican James A. Rhodes a 509 to 293 majority over Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Democrat, Sen. Frank J.

Lausche a 429 to 320 majority over Republican John Marshall Briley and Republican Congressman William H. Harsha Jr. 493 votes to only 281 for Democrat challenger Jerry C. Raso.

The students favored Democrat Robert J. Mace over Republican Max E. Lawrence, 421 to 388, in the county commissioner race, and Democrat State Representative Virtus J. Kruse over Republican Belford Carpenter by a vote of 470 to 337.

In the nonpartisan Common Pleas Judge contest, MTHS students gave Evelyn W. Coffman 233 votes to 225 for Reed M. Winegardner.

In other state races, the Miami Trace students voted as follows: Lieutenant Governor: Brown (R) 554, Gallagher (D) 345.

Attorney-General: Saxbe (R) 507, Sweeney (D) 373.

State Auditor: Tracey (R) 468, Donahy (D) 346.

Secretary of State: Brown (R) 532, Babcock (D) 265.

State Treasurer: Herbert (R) 440, Ferguson (D) 392.

Chief Justice: Taft 560, Weygandt 190.

Supreme Court Judge (Jan. 1 term): Mayer 347, Matthias 248.

Supreme Court Judge (Jan. 2 term): Herbert 402, Cole 333.

Congress-At-Large: Taft (R) 473, Kennedy (D) 311.

Republican Harry R. Allen, unopposed for re-election as county auditor, received a complimentary vote of 584, and Judge Calvin Crawford, unopposed for re-election to the Court of Appeals, received 400 votes.

Ronald Thompson and Robert LeBeau, American Government teachers, arranged the election. Their classes tabulated the ballots.

Aide Sought To Get Data On Barnett

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The Justice Department has asked the U.S. Court of Appeals to appoint a master to take evidence on whether Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett has complied with court orders in the James H. Meredith desegregation case.

The Justice Department said it felt the appointment of a master was necessary because Barnett, while contending he is not in contempt of court, "did not present any evidence of what specific actions he had taken" to purge himself on a contempt citation.

The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals found Barnett in contempt for his part in attempting to block the enrollment of Meredith, a Negro, at the University of Mississippi.

The court set Barnett's punishment at a possible $10,000 a day fine and imprisonment until he has purged himself, but has not imposed any penalty.

The Justice Department, in a memorandum filed late Monday said it realized that the appointment of a master to take evidence would delay the court's final decision.

In view of the fact that Meredith is attending Ole Miss, and the "governor has ceased overt interference," the need for quick action no longer exists, it said.

Marion Councilwoman Gets Nod From Jury

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Norma Jacob, Democratic councilwoman-at-large, is entitled to her seat on the Marion City Council even though her husband and son live outside the city limits, a Probate Court jury has ruled yesterday.

The jury returned a 9-3 verdict for Mrs. Jacob Monday in the suit filed by F. Riley Hall, Marion County Republican Party chairman, and others.

Red Chief Calls Cuba Rocket Removal Common Sense Idea

MOSCOW (AP)—Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin declared today that withdrawal of Soviet rockets from Cuba was "a concession to common sense."

At the same time he pledged to help Cuba defend its sovereignty.

"We helped and will continue to help the Cuban people defend their sacred right to peace," Kosygin said.

He spoke at a rally in the Kremlin auditorium on the eve of the celebration of the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Premier Khrushchev and other leaders of the Soviet government and Communist party were on the platform.

Kosygin also expressed regret over fighting on the Indian-Chinese border. He urged immediate negotiations.

"The sooner these negotiations start," he said, "the better for

Governor Race Tops Interest

Citizens Trek To Polls As Morning Fog Lifts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Heavy voting in scattered precincts soon after the polls opened at 6:30 a.m. today pointed to a record Ohio vote for an off-year election.

Brisk, partly sunny weather prevailed generally.

Several precincts in Columbus and its suburbs reported that early voting appeared as heavy as during the last presidential election. A similar report came from London, Ohio, to the west.

Cleveland election officials said the vote in the state's most populous area "could be a big one if the day stays nice."

An early morning fog, blamed for slowing early balloting in Cincinnati, soon lifted and officials said voting began to pick up.

In Springfield, where there was an early morning fog, election officials said the early balloting was normal.

Early predictions of a record 3.8 million vote for a non-presidential election could turn out to be low, officials agreed. The state's comparable high was nearly 3.4 million in 1958. Ohio's 1960 presidential election total exceeded 4.2 million votes.

In the major Ohio race, voters decide whether to give Democrat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle another four-year term or replace him with Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Up for grabs in less spectacular races are eight other state offices, 24 seats in the U.S. House and one in the U.S. Senate.

Republican John Marshall Briley of Toledo offered Sen. Frank J. Lausche, incumbent Democrat, what he called a "live pair" because the former five-term Ohio governor is ill in a hospital at Bethesda, Md.

Briley, former business executive turned politician, said he would not vote in the senatorial race because he understood Lausche's illness would keep the senator from voting. Aides said Lausche is recovering from exhaustion but is expected to win handily.

Vying for voter interest was a contest for congressman-at-large. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., Republican floor leader in the Ohio House, raced another famous-name candidate in Democrat Richard D. Kennedy, Cleveland real estate man who is unrelated to the President. The statewide contest resulted from allotment of a 24th congressman to Ohio on the basis of the last federal census.

Although observers expected Taft to win going away, results in the 23 congressional district races were not expected to change materially. The 16-7 Republican advantage over Democrats in the Ohio delegation.

Also up for decision is a proposal to clarify Ohio's constitutional ban on most Sunday business. Sponsored through initiative petition by a large milk firm, the proposal seeks to prohibit a ban on Sunday sale of milk and milk products along with other so-called necessities.

the cause of peace."

It was a wide-ranging speech and Kosygin reiterated familiar Soviet demands. He asserted that peaceful coexistence was a leading point of Lenin's doctrine.

Premier Khrushchev was on the rostrum, but did not speak.

Regarding the rockets that were sent to Cuba, Kosygin said that "so long as President Kennedy had solemnly declared before the world that there would be no aggression against Cuba, either on the side of the United States, or by any other country in the Western Hemisphere, the presence of the weapons—which had been called offensive by the United States President—lost their significance."

Kosygin blamed the United States for the Cuban crisis. "Who," he asked, "is guilty in this conflict? Militarism, aggressive imperialism of the United States?"

City School Board Has Busy Session

The Washington C. H. Board of Education approved two personnel assignments and transacted a variety of routine business at a regular meeting Monday night.

Roy Underwood Sr. was employed on recommendation of the superintendent as night custodian at the high school, replacing Cleven Edwards. His beginning salary was set at $2,880 per year, with provision for increments under the regular salary schedule.

William Fyffe, who teaches social studies at the junior high school level, was assigned as freshman basketball, and track coach for the 1962-63 school year. The basketball position carries added pay of $250 a year and the track coach position pays an additional $150.

Head Football Coach Richard Anders handled the freshman basketball duties last year, and Gene Millard, now a member of the Bexley High School coaching staff, acted as track coach. Fyffe has given Anders some assistance in football this year.

SUPERINTENDENT Marshall D. Boggs told the board that the school system may experience some difficulty in securing replacements for young men on the faculty who may be called for military duty if the world situation should deteriorate.

Five members of the present teaching staff have educational deferments and might be reclassified and called to active duty, Boggs said.

Roger Mickle, of the Eastside staff and a member of an active Air Force reserve unit, has been called to active duty on a standby basis but has been permitted to return to his classes pending further orders.

The board considered the superintendent's report but agreed that no action can be taken until the situation clarifies itself.

ONE OF THE four senior football players dropped from the squad several weeks ago and his mother met with the board to express dissatisfaction with Coach Anders' stated reasons for his action.

Board members told the two visitors that the incident was an administrative matter based on an judgment by a member of the teaching staff, and that the board itself, which is a policy-making body, does not intend to interfere with administrative decisions as long as they are not in conflict with board policy.

The superintendent reported that football receipts have been "good," with a balance of $7,258.66 in the athletic fund as of Nov. 1. Football receipts to that date have totaled $12,661.90.

The sum of $250 from football receipts and $127.40 from Band Booster concessions have been credited to the band activity account.

The board will conduct a final inspection of the new cafeteria at its next meeting Nov. 19, preparatory to final acceptance.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board received the honor roll and failure list for the first grading period.

Approved Activity Council minutes.

Received the superintendent's report of enrollment as of Oct. 12 which shows a total of 2,783 pupils in all grades.

Inspected new ovens in the cafeteria which were installed at a cost of $767 after government surplus.

FINED FOR ASSAULT

Carl Edwin Matson, 29, of 328 Fountain Ave., was fined $25 and costs and received a suspended 30-day jail sentence in Municipal Court Tuesday, after he was found guilty of charges of assault filed by Thelma Matson. Matson was arrested at the VFW Club Hall, 110 1/2 S. Fayette St., Monday by City Patrolman Rodman Scott.

Alva H. Brown

Alva Harvey Brown, 88, of 334 Fifth St., died at 7:20 p. m. Monday in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus. He had been in failing health for a year and critically ill three weeks.

Born in Pike County, Mr. Brown formerly was a night watchman at the M. Hamm Fertilizer Co., predecessor of Agric. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Baptist Church.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Gard, Pensacola, Fla.; two sons, Vora F. 334 Fifth St., and H. Buell, 1116 Golfview Dr.; 11 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Ada Poole, Springfield.

Services will be at 1 p. m. Thursday in the Parrett Funeral Home where friends may call after 7 p. m. Tuesday. The Rev. Allen Falls, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

Mrs. Gerald Preston

SABINA — Mrs. Lenna Pearl Preston, 69, Sabina, died at 12:05 a. m. Tuesday in Fayette Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient 16 days.

She was a native of Martinsville, but had lived in Sabina since 1941. She was a member of the Church of Christ here.

She is survived by her husband, Gerald Preston; two sons, Donald and Howard, both of Sabina; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Littleton Funeral Home and burial will be in Sabina Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 1 p. m. Wednesday.

CHARLES M. CHANEY — Services for Charles M. Chaney, 72, of 227 W. Ohio Ave., were held at 1 p. m. Monday in the Parrett Funeral Home, with the Rev. Allen Falls, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. Chaney, a retired boxmaker, was found dead in his home Friday.

Palbearers for the burial in Greenfield Cemetery were Lewis Wilson, Harley Daugherty, Billie Mowery, Virgil Moore, Raymond Rollins and Hammond Chaney Jr.

Area Deaths

Vatican Parley Is Speeded Up

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII moved today to speed up the lagging pace of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council, giving its presidency new powers to limit speeches.

At the same time, the Pope confirmed that the first phase of the council would end Dec. 8. He did not say when the sessions would resume, but Vatican sources have indicated it would be after Easter, April 14.

The papal announcement was read to the more than 2,000 prelates by Archbishop Pericle Felici, council secretary-general, during the day's session in St. Peter's.

The Pope gave the council presidency power to propose that discussions be ended "when the presidency judged that the matter had been sufficiently examined and illustrated."

Six speakers already have given their views on the second of eight chapters in a proposed constitution dealing with public worship.

Driver Fined $200, Jailed

Other Drivers Forfeit Bond

Grover J. Owens, 44, of 1025 Dayton Ave., was fined $200 and jail sentence Tuesday in Municipal Court, after Judge Max G. Dice found him guilty of driving while intoxicated.

Owens' driver's license was suspended until he complies with the Financial Responsibility Law, and he received a suspended $25 fine for reckless operation.

He was arrested by City Patrolman Forrest Penwell Monday night on S. Fayette St.

Three persons who forfeited a total $78 in bonds for failure to appear in court on other traffic charges were:

Jack R. Smith, 41, Lancaster, $20, speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60-mile zone on the CCC Highway-E;

James M. Williams, 40, Columbus, $25, driving a semi-trailer truck left of center on the CCC Highway-W;

Alfred A. Stevens, 60, Columbus, $33 driving a single axle truck over the CCC Highway-E loaded 1,025 pounds in excess of the 19,000 limit.

Carnival Report Made At Meeting Of Wayne PTO

GOOD HOPE — The Halloween carnival held Oct. 27 will net the Wayne Parent-Teacher Organization about $130, George Vandye, chairman of the ways and means committee, told the group at its meeting Monday night in the school. He said $208 was taken in and that expenses will amount to approximately $75 when all the bills are paid.

After discussing the time for the Christmas program, the group left it up to the teachers to decide the date and whether it will be given by the pupils in the afternoon or evening, as in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Garringer, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Beekman, Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowdle and Mrs. Emerald Sollars were named by Mrs. Robert Zimmerman, president to the committee to prepare the Christmas baskets for the needy in the community.

The eighth grade was awarded the $2 prize for having 10 parents, the most of any other class, at the meeting.

Walter W. Boyer, executive head of the Miami Trace District, told the group some changes are being considered in the school bus routes and schedules. He said the district operates 38 busses and that they are taking 450 more pupils to school this year than last.

Roger Hoffman, Fayette County school superintendent, in discussing the curriculum and grading system, emphasized the importance of a college education. He added that, to this end, more English is now being taught. He also explained that students are assigned to schools in order to make classes of 30 pupils.

Vandye said Walter Hurd told him that he is planning to form groups from the Miami Trace Band to provide entertainment programs for Parent-Teacher Organization meetings sometime in the future.

Cup cakes, milk and coffee were served after adjournment.

Boast Leaves Man Frozen And Arrested

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — This was a cold day to swim the Ohio River—but Ernie Nickerson did it.

Nickerson, 30, had been telling his friends he could swim the Ohio from Cincinnati to Newport any day of the year. At 4 a. m. today, police said, he lived up to his words by taking off his jacket, shirt and shoes on Cincinnati's Public Landing — and splashing off into the darkness.

The temperature was a shivery 39 and Nickerson's friends expected him to turn back. He didn't.

The friends got worried and called police. Newport police said they found him on the river bank, almost frozen, and took him to Booth Hospital.

At the hospital a nurse said Nickerson, formerly of Cynthia, had gone to sleep. "We are going to release him," she added.

Police charged him with breach of the peace.

States. It created this conflict which could cost mankind great losses.

"But finally, on the basis of a compromise and mutual concessions, the sharpness of the conflict is now liquidated. Negotiations are being held to liquidate it completely."

The crew-cut deputy premier spent a considerable amount of time justifying what he called the Cuban compromise.

"Some people," he said, "ask if it was necessary to yield. We think it was necessary to make a concession from both sides."

"This compromise is in the interests of the whole world, because on that basis there has been liquidated the danger of a thermonuclear war."

Kiwanians Briefed On Dialing System

Members of the Kiwanis Club were briefed on the operation of direct distance dialing at their Monday night dinner meeting by Paul Dougherty, commercial manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. here.

The new system for making long distance calls will go into effect here Nov. 18.

Dougherty's explanations were illustrated with a series of color slides.

He said the new system is being installed throughout the Bell system because of the increase in the number of telephones and the demand for faster service at low cost.

He pointed out that in 1950, there were approximately 5,000 telephones in Washington C. H. and that 11 years later, in 1961, there were more than 7,700 and 9,800 in the entire county.

HE EXPLAINED that Ohio has four calling areas and that Washington C. H. is in the area designated as 614 in dialing. However he emphasized that it is NOT necessary to dial 614 in making calls in this area.

He also explained that to call other areas, it is necessary first to dial 1 to be connected to the long distance equipment and second to dial the area number and third to dial the phone number.

In case a wrong number is called, he said no charge will be made if the operator is notified. Records are kept automatically.

Dougherty said, which list the number of the phone from which the call was made, the number of the phone called and the length of the time of the call.

A new directory, and a new blue book listing the area numbers outside this district will be mailed within the next few days, he said.

Swedes Study Secrets Case

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Security arrangements within the Swedish armed forces are under scrutiny following the recent disappearance of 24,000 secret documents from the offices of the comptroller general of the armed forces.

The documents were gone for nine days before a civilian truck driver returned them, saying he had picked them up by mistake.

The documents contained full information on Swedish ammunition supplies, estimated ammunition needs in case of mobilization and locations of Swedish munitions dumps.

Security police said the truck driver had orders to pick up eight boxes of electronics equipment.

The driver left with eight boxes. Nine days later it was discovered that the boxes contained the secret military information.

Rockefeller's Win Margin Under Study

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Re-election of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller by a margin that would carry a nationwide impact—800,000 to 1,000,000 votes or more—was the goal of New York state Republican leaders in today's election.

They were looking beyond today's balloting to 1964, when Rockefeller is expected to bid for the Republican nomination for president. A runaway victory today would strengthen the governor's hand.

As New York voters went to the polls the 54-year-old governor was expected to win re-election, with the chief question the size of his plurality.

But Rockefeller's Democratic opponent, Robert M. Morgenthau, 43, former federal prosecutor, insisted the tide had turned in the closing days of the campaign and he would win.

The campaign ended formally Monday night with television appeals from both sides. The Republican program was broadcast statewide the Democratic presentation was shown only on a New York City station.

U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, a Republican, also was expected to defeat his Democratic opponent, James B. Donovan, a New York City lawyer. Donovan spent much of the campaign in his job of chief negotiator for the release of Cuban invaders held prisoner by the Fidel Castro government.

Union Thanksgiving Service Date Set

This year's Union Thanksgiving service will be held at 7:30 p. m. Nov. 21 in the First Presbyterian Church. This was decided definitely at the Fayette County Ministerial Association meeting in the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday morning. The Rev. Donald Bell, pastor of the McNair and Bloomington Presbyterian Churches will deliver the sermon.

Dr. G. Glen Hughes, pastor of Grace Methodist Church and president of the association, presided at the relatively short business session, during which the Rev. Orlo Freshly, pastor of the New Holland Methodist Church, was welcomed as a new member.

The Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, closed the meeting with a talk on "Sermon Preparation."

Others at the meeting were the Rev. Lester Litton, pastor of the Good Hope Methodist Church; the Rev. Joseph N. Radabaugh, pastor of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church; the Rev. Jim G. Henry, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church and the Rev. Joseph Krpalek, pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Kremlin Hails Bulgar Reds

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Bulgarian Communists won praise today from the Kremlin's top party theoretician for backing the "peaceful coexistence" foreign policy preached by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Mikhail Suslov, the theoretician, also gave Moscow's approval for the purge of Stalinists from Bulgarian party and government posts, including Premier Anton Yugov and half a dozen others.

Suslov, head of the Soviet delegation to the eighth Bulgarian party congress, told the 1,055 delegates: "Under its capable leadership, the Bulgarian party has kept itself clear by its struggle against dogmatism, revisionism and sectarianism."

A significant factor in the Bulgarian purge was the ouster of Georgi Kumbilyev, ambassador to Red China.

The flute was a great favorite with the ancient Greeks and Romans.

HOW THE WEATHER LOOKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A large high pressure area centered over Ohio Monday night resulted in clearing skies.

Temperatures dropped into the 20s generally during the night, and considerable ground fog and frost had formed by dawn today. The visibility dropped to zero at Columbus and Dayton.

Shortly before sunrise, Toledo reported a temperature of 21, Columbus 25 and Youngstown 26. Scattered cloudiness along the Ohio River held temperatures there to the middle 30s.

Fair skies will dominate the state today, but cloudiness will increase late tonight or Wednesday as another low pressure system approaches.

Scattered showers are expected late Wednesday.

Michiganders Deciding Fate Of Dem Chiefs

DETROIT (AP) — Today's the day Michigan voters decide whether the Democrats will extend their 14-year reign in the governorship by re-electing Gov. John B. Swainson or whether the Republicans will take over under the leadership of industrialist George Romney.

Romney, 55, former president of American Motors Corp., who resigned to run for governor, is a political neophyte. He faces a 37-year-old veteran politician, who won the governorship after G. Mennen Williams declined to run for re-election after 12 years as governor.

Also to be decided today is whether Democrat Neil Staeble or Republican Alvin Bentley will win the congressman-at-large seat. Michigan gained a new congressional seat as a result of a population increase shown in the 1960 census. But the legislature couldn't agree on how to set up a new district and the seat will be filled at large.

Romney has said that if he's elected governor he will not "actively campaign" for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, a Democrat, has called Romney "a liar" on that score, saying the GOP nominee's aim has been since he announced to use the governorship as a springboard in a White House leap.

Both Romney and Swainson took to airwaves in election eve telecasts Monday night.

Cincy Boy, 3 Is Problem In School

CINCINNATI (AP) — Randy Stears is a bright, blue-eyed young man but his first day at school caused a lot of problems. He's only three years old.

Randy turned up for classes at Woodward High School Monday because his baby sitter, Pat Chapman, 16, couldn't think of any other place for him.

And Pat was not really a sitter, either. Police said she had agreed to care for the smiling youngster while his mother, Mrs. Rosemary Stears, hunted for her husband, Everett.

The youngster had been left with Pat Saturday night, and officers said Mrs. Stears finally telephoned police late Monday night.

Officers told Mrs. Stears to confer with juvenile officials this morning since the boy was spending the night at a foster home.

The teen-age sitter said she was glad to take care of the boy over the weekend for Mrs. Stears, a casual acquaintance.

But on Monday, she had to go to school, and the woman with whom she lives had to go to work. That's why Randy showed up at high school.

Kennedy-Lodge Vote Fight On In Bay State

BOSTON (AP) — More than two million Massachusetts voters, a record for a non-presidential year, are expected to turn out today to answer a hot political question:

Should Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, 30, be sent to Washington to give advice and consent to his older brother, President John F. Kennedy, from a seat in the U.S. Senate?

Indications are the answer will be yes.

Ted is a heavy favorite to defeat Republican George Cabot Lodge in the race for the Senate seat that has been held by either a Kennedy or a Lodge for 45 of the last 69 years.

President Kennedy flew into Boston Monday night to cast a vote for his brother—and, by his presence, give a psychological lift to Ted and the rest of the Democratic state ticket.

The President slipped out of his hotel Monday night for a quick visit with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, in her brown clapboard home in the Dorchester section.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, who was 97 years old last Wednesday, is the widow of "Honey Fitz," colorful onetime mayor of Boston and Massachusetts congressman.

"Honey Fitz" ran for the U.S. Senate in 1916 but lost to Henry Cabot Lodge Sr., great-grandfather of George Cabot Lodge.

Sabin Defends His Oral Polio Vaccine

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. Albert Sabin, who has been quick to defend the oral live-virus polio vaccine he developed, contends it was irresponsible to link the vaccine with paralytic illness in Nebraska.

He said Monday Public Health Service officials have reported seven suspected cases from Lincoln, Neb., in which persons developed an illness similar to acute polio within 7 to 22 days after taking Type II Sabin vaccine.

Dr. Sabin, University of Cincinnati virologist, contended the evidence showed, however, that in five of the cases, the ailment was not polio, but other diseases of the nervous system.

The other cases involved a girl who had five Salk polio inoculations and a woman who had four Salk shots.

Some parents who attended Monday night's meeting denounced Posey's action but did not demand that he be fired. School Supt. John E. Brown said he has enough faith in the instructor to state without reservation that a similar incident would not happen again.

It's Democracy's Bargain Day

NEW YORK (AP)—This is democracy's bargain day.

The long tumult and the shouting dies as the people pick their sacrifice—the one who will be their public servant in the office he aspires to, whether it be dog-catcher or U.S. senator.

Shopping for the best political value they can find, each ordinary man or woman voter has a mystic might on election day.

However humble or exalted his calling, he assumes at the moment he casts his ballot the role of a judge, an atom of direct choice in the future well-being of his society.

Collectively, he is the one who hands out the togs of power to those who will represent him in the interval between now and the next election.

A cynical or skeptical person may feel his one vote may make little difference in a rising sea of votes that swells with the growing population.

"I might just as well have stayed at home," he tells himself on the way to the polls.

But at the actual moment he casts that vote, he often feels an inner exultation, a sense of dignity that always goes with doing a duty—and making a choice in favor of what he values and believes in.

Any American worth his heritage always feels better after casting his ballot, and always feels guilty if through laziness, neglect or inertia he fails to vote.

For he has been taught since birth—and realizes in his heart of hearts—that the security of a political system which has won the world's wonder has been sustained for nearly 200 years by the actions of millions of men in long lines before the ballot box or on the battlefield.

To some foreign observers with totalitarian leanings, an American political campaign is a terrible or amusing human comedy of unnecessary and extravagant waste—a vast waste of time, effort and money.

They argue the people can be led better, more cheaply and more efficiently if their leaders are picked for them than if the people go through the periodic struggle of selecting their own leadership.

It is true, perhaps, that Americans may spend a billion dollars or more during a national election—an amount of money that would build 50 thousand $20,000 homes.

But the American people seem to feel that investment, or any other, is worth it to stay free in their own way.

In any race there must be losers as well as winners. Tonight for every precinct hall that rings with joy another will be hung with crepe.

In his hour of triumph the victor, however glad, must ask himself, "What did I really let myself in for?" The public is a demanding and querulous taskmaster—an octopus of many pressures. Lucky is the elected man who can keep himself from being squeezed into a political pretzel.

The defeated ones have a consolation. No one will ask them to fulfill all the promises they made. They can put them away until the next election—and maybe try again.

Hoffa Loses In High Court

Mail Fraud Case Is Still Pending

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, has lost his second attempt to get dismissal of an indictment by a federal grand jury in Orlando, Fla., charging mail fraud.

The Supreme Court rejected an appeal that asserted jury officials "consciously and deliberately manipulated" the racial balance of names placed in the jury box for selection of grand jurors.

The appeal also contended there was systematic exclusion from the grand jury of "wage earners, laborers, and working men of the lower economic strata who were likely to be members of labor unions."

The indictment also named Robert E. McCarthy Jr., a Detroit bank employee. McCarthy joined in Hoffa's appeal to the Supreme Court. The two were accused of using Teamsters' funds to promote a Florida housing development as a Teamsters' retirement haven, when it was actually privately owned.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Joseph P. Lieb in Tampa, Fla., refused to dismiss the indictment and was upheld by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, La.

On Oct. 22, 1962 the Supreme Court refused to hear another appeal by Hoffa and McCarthy which also attacked the indictment. That appeal asserted President Kennedy and other high government officials, by public statements had prejudiced the grand jury.

While the Supreme Court had the two appeals pending, Hoffa went on trial in federal court in Nashville in another case. In the Nashville trial he was charged with violating the Taft-Hartley Act by using union influence to set up a trucking company.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the day the Russians were going to be nice about. Then everything got mixed up, including the Russians, and the day turned out nicer than they seemed to have in mind.

For four years they had been trying to get the Allies out of Berlin and even put up a wall to keep them out of half of it.

Then on Sept. 13 they stuck their neck out. They issued a statement. It was a beauty.

They suggested Americans get so worked up over politics they were willing to wait until after Election Day for a showdown on Berlin. But, to show how earnest they were, they said they should not delay the showdown indefinitely.

This would have been real neighborly if they had just stopped there. And they would have been happier right now if they had stopped. But they threw in some stuff on Cuba.

First, they warned the United States that an attack on Cuba would be the beginning of a war that might turn into a world nuclear war.

Second, they said they were sending weapons to Cuba but (a) they were not establishing a base there and (b) the weapons were purely defensive.

Third, they added a final touch which must make them wish now they had never thought of it. They said they didn't have to put missiles in Cuba because the missiles in Russia could reach anywhere.

Then the egg broke about a month later.

The United States discovered the Russians were building Cuban missile bases which weren't defensive; President Kennedy warned the Russians to break up the bases and get the missiles out; and the Russians, who had lied about the missiles right up to the last, backed down in the face of a possible American attack on Cuba and began demolishing the bases.

All of which brings the story back—in very ominous fashion—to what looked on Sept. 13 like a very decent Soviet gesture in offering to delay a Berlin settlement until after Election Day.

By delaying the showdown until sometime later in November or December—provided Cuban bases hadn't been discovered—the Russians would have had time to get their missiles in place and cocked toward America.

Then, in a showdown on Berlin later this year if the United States still balked at a settlement, Premier Khrushchev could have unveiled the plot he had been cooking up with missiles right against the American temple.

He could have told the United States it was too late to get tough about Berlin because the long-range Soviet missiles in Russia and the shorter-range ones in Cuba could demolish the United States.

The United States, faced with that, would have been in a desperate box. But it didn't work out that way.

Now it's doubtful the Russians—who admitted they were lying when they meekly agreed to take back missiles which they said weren't there—will try for a Berlin crisis this year.

So Election Day in the United States turned out to be a nice day after all.

The human eye is more than 100 times keener than photographic film or devices that detect heat and light.

New Zealanders eat more than twice as much as Americans do.

The British Stone of Scone symbolizes the union of the English and Scottish crowns in the 17th century.

The United States ranks first in output of locomotives and freight cars.

Worthless Piece Of Land Causes U.S.-Mexican Fuss

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A little bit of land along the Rio Grande is giving an oversized headache to the United States and Mexico.

Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos discussed the piece of land a few months ago with President Kennedy. The several hundred acres of territory is American—by virtue of a capricious turn the Rio Grande took nearly 60 years ago. Mexico wants the area back.

It was reported in Washington recently that a settlement in the long standing boundary dispute is a distinct possibility before the end of the year.

The dispute had its origins back when the United States was occupying itself with wrapping up the Civil War. At the time, the luckless Maximilian was seeking to keep the slippery crown of Mexico on his head.

In 1864, the Rio Grande escaped its banks and roamed freely in Mexico. Then the river returned to its bed. But it didn't return to the exact spot it left. It re-entered a little below its exit and left a small bit of land on the United States side which shortly before had been in Mexico.

This was in a part of the country where land was almost worthless.

"It was just weeds and brush and a few trees. There wasn't a house there," says Cleofas Caleros, noted El Paso historian and an expert on this land segment.

The area eventually gained a name: El Chamizal—from the Spanish word for brush.

El Paso expanded and eventually people built houses there. Now a very vocal but unorganized group in Mexico clamors for its return to Mexico. Members of the group consider El Chamizal a point of national honor.

The two presidents discussed the matter when Kennedy visited Mexico last spring. On Sept. 1, Lopez Mateos said in his state of the nation speech that "nothing would contribute more to relations between the United States and Mexico than a settlement of the El Chamizal problem."

The presidents turned the touchy problem over to administrative aides.

Considering that the countries are on good terms and individuals on the border get along well, several solutions are offered frequently by citizens on both sides of the Rio Grande.

One would be to turn the area over to Mexico. Another would give Mexico land somewhere else of about the same size. A third is purchase of the land from Mexico.

Lopez Mateos, speaking through Foreign Minister Manuel Tello, said last summer that purchase or exchange of land would be unsatisfactory.

Mexico was awarded the land by arbitration in 1911. However, the U.S. member of the arbitration board dissented, saying no one could determine the location of the original bed of the river. There the matter rested.

Even now, no one can determine the original size of El Chamizal. The old river bed is built up with homes, businesses and streets. Estimates of the size range from 400 to 650 acres.

Once outright purchase or exchange are rejected, authorities face an extremely touchy problem involving 22,000 people by Caleros' estimate.

That is the population of El Chamizal. And although some day the issue may affect them very personally, the residents appear unworried.

They're Teen-Age 'Hobgoblins'

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: To what ages should the Halloween custom of going from door to door for Tricks or Treats be limited? We welcome little ones in costume (some accompanied by their parents) early in the evening. But what about "kiddies" up to 18 years old who go from door to door with sacks, baskets and pillow cases asking for a "treat"? This annual event has provoked considerable discussion. What is your opinion?

TRICKS OR TREATS
DEAR T.O.T.: Halloween should be left to the little ones who still believe in witches, goblins and ghosts. It's the responsibility of parents to control their children who are too old for such fantasies. There is something pitifully childish about a 18-year-old "begging" candy.

DEAR ABBY: Is it all right to use a nickname on an engraved wedding invitation? My fiancé has been called "Buddy" all his life. If someone called him "Bertram" he wouldn't even turn around. My mother says we have to use "Bertram" on our wedding invitations. Could I put "Bertram (Buddy) Finklehoffe" on the invitation and be correct?

ENGAGED
DEAR ENGAGED: Sorry—only full given names are used on a formal wedding invitation.

DEAR ABBY: One of your readers signed "STUMPED" asks, "Can a dog be trained to sleep days instead of night?" The answer is yes. And this training will work on almost any dog within 24 hours. It is common practice to feed a dog once a day. After eating, the dog will lie down and go to sleep. It is obvious that "Stumped" feeds her dog in the evening. If she feeds her dog in the morning he will sleep during the day and stay awake all night.

Inside You And Yours

By DR. BURTON H. FERN

Do you feel that everyone else is better than you? You may, without even knowing it!

Inferiority feelings stem from some real or imagined failure. Some trivial remark can spark these lifelong feelings.

Perhaps someone commented on your turn-up nose when you were a toddler and made you think it was deformed.

Unwise parents may have branded you deficient by comparing you with the genius next door. The feeling stays, even though his genius turned out to be a myth.

You often forget what sparked that inferiority idea and so you manufacture reasons.

What's The Reason?

You're too rich or too poor; too short or too tall; too fat or too thin. No matter how good you are, you'll find some way to prove you're low man on the totem pole.

Inferiority feelings can make or break you. They can spur you on to new success or paralyze all efforts into failure.

Don't pretend those inferiority feelings aren't there.

Some people hide behind a superior image. They talk like experts on satellites, philosophy, rock 'n' roll — anything, without ever admitting they don't know.

Can Criticize

You can hide in Fantasyland or set your goal too high on purpose. Then you can criticize anyone whose home isn't spotless. And when your home isn't — well, what can you expect with children around?

You can hide by becoming a super-specialist and spend all your spare time alone learning Arabic. Believe In Yourself

Don't hide! Inferiority feelings can make you kind, considerate and sympathetic — a more human human! Have faith in yourself! Work at a satisfying job, but make sure you can handle it.

Eventually you'll come to realize that in some ways you're better than others and then you can start looking at the doughnut — instead of the hole!

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

As long as there were rail fences throughout the county, "fence rows" occupied a tremendous acreage of good land.

These fences, commonly called "worm fences" because they were built in zig-zag fashion so they would stand up, occupied strips of land 10 to 12 feet wide. Often the fence rows were allowed to grow up with brush, briars and even small saplings.

If the old rail fences were "stake and ridered" which meant setting rails or parts of rails in the ground at each corner, they occupied even more ground.

This type of fence was frequently six or seven feet high, as the top rails, resting in the forks of the stakes, lifted the fence much above the eight or 10 rails for the average fence.

When wire fences made their appearance just before the turn of the century, the amount of tillable land was increased by three to five feet on each side of the wire fences, and this increased acreage produced crops that literally paid for the fences within a few years.

When the old rail fence rows grew up with brush, briars and what have you, they formed ideal shelter for quail, rabbits and other game, including the very, very few pheasants which were in this area 60 years ago.

This shelter, which vanished years ago with much other desirable refuge for game, did much to protect rabbits and quail from predators, such as hawks and owls. In the thick growth of the fence rows they were comparatively safe.

Even the wily fox found it difficult to catch rabbits, or quail when they took refuge in the grownup fence rows.

Time after time I have seen hunters walking along fence rows with guns at the ready, for usually game would be flushed from the growth by the dogs.

I recall the first wild pheasant I ever saw was on the William J. Selsor farm in Paint Twp., where I picked up a set of tracks in four inches of snow. Since I had never seen such tracks before, I followed them.

After more than a half mile, I noticed the tracks were farther apart, indicating the bird was running. Looking far ahead I saw the beautiful cock pheasant literally "making tracks" toward a grown-up fence row.

It was fully a mile from the starting place before I flushed the bird, and being armed only with a .22 rifle I stood and looked in wonderment as it flew far down the fence row and disappeared.

Later a neighbor told me that he killed a cock pheasant along the same fence row.

Another time while a group of us were hunting along the same fence, one man saw a rabbit sitting in a bunch of grass 60 feet from the fence and opened fire with his shotgun.

The rabbit did not move and the man said "that rabbit must have frozen to death." Walking over he gave the rabbit a kick, and it came out of the nest on the run, surprising the group so that the frightened bunny, which apparently had not been touched by the charge of shot, escaped.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Three Ohio River steamboats, the "Island Queen," "Morning Star" and "Tacoma" were destroyed by fire at their wharf in Cincinnati.

Many women attended a political meeting held in the Federated Club Rooms of the YMCA.

A barn on the James Sexton farm, southwest of Sedalia, was destroyed by fire. A mare and a colt burned to death.

The Leesburg road, which had been improved from the Fayette County line to Leesburg, was opened to traffic.

George Bryan, YMCA secretary, issued a call for return of YMCA dishes which had been borrowed and never brought back.

Washington C. H. had 22 students enrolled at Ohio State University.

Turkey demanded all warships obtain permission before entering the Dardanelles, and this was arousing the anger of the larger nations.

The South Central Basketball League was organized at a meeting here, with Washington C. H., Hillsboro, Greenfield, Chillicothe, Circleville and Wilmington participating.

Pete Willis was the outstanding star of the game when Granville defeated Wooster.

Jeffersonville Council signed a contract for electric street lights.

Vic Donahy was elected governor, S. D. Fess congressman and Atlee Pomerene U. S. senator.

Fayette County voted against the sale of beer and wine, 6,818 to 2,017. Ohio voted dry by a majority of 187,854 votes.

Many western Fayette Countians had "butterflies in their tummies" after officers located a still and several barrels of mash on a farm where the water used was from a well containing numerous dead rats and rabbits.

Washington Water Co. officials were given a hearing before the Ohio State Board of Health as to why the company was not providing an adequate supply of water and why the water was polluted so that boiling was necessary.

The first fox hunters and hounds from many states were arriving here. More than 300 reservations, in addition to hotel rooms, had been made for the Fox Hunters annual field trials and banch show, opening Nov. 11. The hounds were being given careful attention on the Fairground. It was the first time the national meet had been held in Ohio, and top social events including the Fox Hunters Ball were being scheduled in addition to the trials and show.

Bulgar Chief Is Ousted By Red Party

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP)—Bulgarian Premier Anton Yugov has been ousted from his post and expelled from the Communist party's Central Committee.

Yugov's ouster, apparently an element of a major purge of remaining Stalinists, was announced at the opening session of the Eighth Bulgarian Party Congress here by First Party Secretary Todor Zhivkov.

Zhivkov, in a five-hour address to the 1,055 delegates, accused Yugov of having sided with his predecessor, former Premier Vulko Chervenkov, who was deposed from executive posts in 1956 as a Stalinist.

Chervenkov's expulsion from the party was also announced by Zhivkov. Chervenkov had retained his party membership despite his fall from high position.

Zhivkov also disclosed that a number of other tanking government members had been stripped of their posts in government and party.

They were: Former Deputy Premier Georgi Zankov, former Interior Minister Ivan Raikov and his deputy, Apostol Kolchev, as well as former Trade Minister Rusi Khristozov.

Behind-The-Scenes Story

Hope Held Cuban Episode Marks New Khrush Policy

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fifth and last article of Relman Morin's series on the Cuban crisis.

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—During their conference in Vienna last year, an odd but serious exchange took place over the luncheon table between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

It concerned the Bay of Pigs, scene of the star-crossed Cuban invasion, April 17, 1961.

"The Bay of Pigs was a mistake," Kennedy said, candidly. "But in the American system, we can publicly admit our mistakes." "So can we," Khrushchev retorted. "We have publicly admitted Stalin's mistakes."

"Yes," said the President, gesturing. "But your own mistakes—?"

The question hung in the air and went unanswered. After a moment of silence, Khrushchev changed the subject.

When Khrushchev announced, Sunday, Oct. 28, that he was withdrawing the Russian missiles from Cuba, he did not acknowledge a mistake. He said the action was taken "in the interests of peace."

But the original Soviet reaction to Kennedy's proclamation of the quarantine of shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba was a rejection and warning.

Moscow radio broadcast a note which said: "The Soviet government resolutely rejects such claims (the U.S. right to blockade Cuba.) The arrogant actions of American imperialism could lead to disastrous consequences to all mankind."

Then, little by little, the Soviet line appeared to be changing, easing off.

Khrushchev replied to a message from the British philosopher, Bertrand Russell, saying he would take no "rash action." On Wednesday, Oct. 24, it was reported that some Soviet-bloc ships had changed course, avoiding the blockade zone. On Friday, Khrushchev said he would not send any more ships into the blockade area for the time being.

A still unpublished message from Khrushchev on Friday "hinted," as an administration official puts it, that he might agree to removing the missiles from Cuba. In another, note however, Khrushchev suggested a horse-trade, taking Russian missiles out of Cuba in exchange for the dismantling of U.S. bases in Turkey. Kennedy said in reply, "preliminary to consideration of any proposals, work on the Cuban bases must stop, offensive weapons must be reduced inoperable."

At the Pentagon, some correspondents thought an invasion of Cuba might start over the weekend, or on Monday.

The atmosphere in Washington was eerie, with a sense of foreboding.

Then, shortly after 9 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 28, came the electrifying announcement from Moscow—Khrushchev agreed to dismantle the missile sites on Cuba, have the weapons crated and returned to the Soviet Union. His message referred to "previous instructions" to stop work on the nuclear bases.

Kennedy received this information from news agency teleprinter machines. At the Pentagon, officers tore the story from the machines, paragraph by paragraph, and rushed it to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. In the immediate aftermath, there was no gloating at the White House, nor has there been any since.

Officials soberly waited for the next step, to see whether the Soviet promises would be kept. Attention turned toward the United Nations, where the next step would be taken. The prevailing attitude in Washington appeared to be wait and see.

In evaluating the whole powderkeg incident, officials make these points:

1. The Soviet objective in Cuba was to present the United States with a fait accompli. The work on the missile bases was pushed so feverishly that the objective might have been reached in another few days. The Cuban bases, in themselves, did not change the balance of nuclear striking power between the United States and the Soviet Union. But, as a top official put it, "they were setting up eight or 10 sites for 30 or 40 missiles. If they were allowed to proceed, why not 10 more sites? That could very well have made a difference."

2. The consequences, in official thinking, would have been to encourage the Soviet Union to take a stronger line on Berlin and in all Latin America.

3. For over a year, in spite of the Vienna conferences between Kennedy and Khrushchev, qualified observers have said they did not believe the Russians were convinced the United States would fight, if necessary, over these super-important areas in the world.

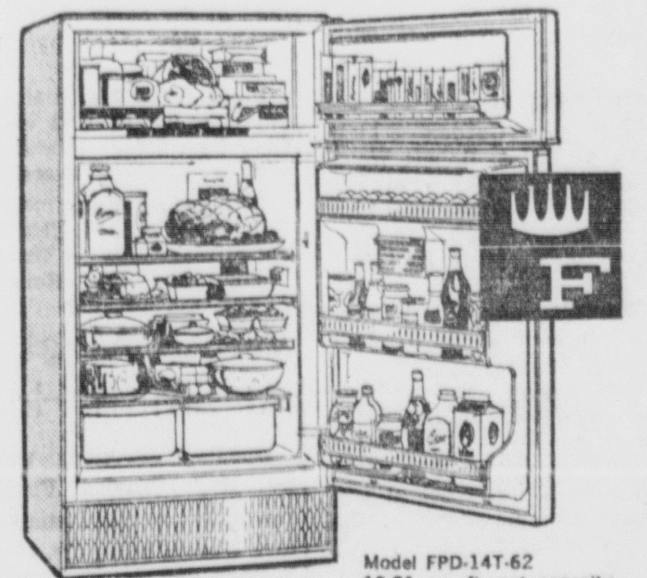

4. In his reply to Khrushchev's message about removing the missiles from Cuba and dismantling the sites, Kennedy said: "I agree with you that we must devote urgent attention to the problem of disarmament as it relates to the whole world and also to critical areas. Perhaps now, as we step back from danger, we can together make real progress in this vital field."

Is it possible that the Cuban episode might lead to a gradual turn-around in the whole pattern of the cold war, a solution to disputes that now seem insoluble?

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan touched on this point in a statement in the House of Commons, Oct. 30.

Sorority Meets At Bumgarner's

Members of Gamma chapter, Phi Beta Psi sorority met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Bumgarner Monday night.

The president, Mrs. Maynard Wilson, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Marvin Roszmann, chairman of the nominating committee, announced that Mrs. Frank Weade has been chosen state chairman and that Mrs. Elmer Reed, vice chairman for the state convention to be held in Washington C. H. in 1964. Mrs. Weade will also attend the national convention to be held in California this summer.

The sorority will sponsor the visit of the Bloodmobile unit in February. Mrs. Cecil Van Zant, philanthropic budget committee chairman, gave her report. A report of the Oct. 5 chili supper, held at the home of Mrs. William Heinz, was given by Mrs. Paul Crosby.

Plans for the annual Christmas party, to be held at the Country Club Dec. 3 for members and associate members, were made.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Bumgarner was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Glenn Chaney and Mrs. Robert Willis.

WSCS Meets At Smith Home

Opening devotions were given by Mrs. Charles Foster when members of the Staunton Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met at the home of Mrs. Elza Smith.

Mrs. Clarence DeWees, program chairman, presented the study, "What Missions Mean To Me." She was assisted by Mrs. Harold Wilson, Miss Blanche Roberts, Mrs. Foster Wical and Mrs. Foster.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Alice Bush, members donated $200 to the Conference Fund of the Methodist Church and made a donation to the Loyal Helpers Class. A report of the activities of the month was also given.

Guests with the 10 members were Mrs. Robert Kitchen and son, Terry, and Mrs. Jolev and daughter, Delyn, Lou Ann Smith and Theresa Palmer.

Mrs. Smith was assisted during the social hour by Mrs. Kitchen and Mrs. Carl Self.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wical.

Beef supplies, although comparatively large, have been running moderately below a year ago. Main price changes at wholesale and retail have been due to seasonal changes in demand for individual cuts. Thus, since mid-September, wholesale prices have gone up on chuck and rounds but have turned lower on beef rib and loin sections.

60th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. JOE CONGER

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Conger, 701 Blackstone Ave., will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary with an open house at their home Sunday, Nov. 18, beginning at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Conger are the parents of five children: Mrs. Sara Tomlinson, Jeffersonville; Mrs. Margaret Bellar and Mr. George Conger, both of Washington C. H.; Mrs. Edith Wilson, London, and Mr. John Conger, Lebanon.

Paper Losses Suffered In College Test

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Midwestern students playing a game of corporation management have found themselves unanimously plagued by paper losses for failing to heed signs of a sluggish business pace.

First returns Monday of the intercollegiate competition came out of Indiana University's electronic computer showing paper losses ranging from $46,000 at Iowa Wesleyan to $120,000 at Denison University. Entries came from nine colleges in the Mid-America Academic Conference. Wilmington and Denison are the two Ohio schools in the conference.

L. L. Waters, I. U. transportation professor, noted that Iowa Wesleyan's students fared best in the paper competition by reducing prices to improve sales in a business slump.

The student executives turn in a new set of decisions every two weeks for the next six months. In the next round, a sharp upswing in business activity will be fed into the hypothetical conditions to be considered.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, 206 Buckeye Rd., left Tuesday for Toledo where they will visit with friends. They expect to return the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Harrison, Jeffersonville, have returned from a 10 day trip to Kansas and Tecumseh, Mo.

DAR Meets At Home Of Mrs. Frank Mayo

Thirty-seven Daughters of the American Revolution were present at the home of Mrs. Frank Mayo Monday afternoon as the regent, Miss Marian L. Moore, opened the chapter in ritualistic form.

Mrs. John D. Forsythe, Flag chairman, led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and read the national anthem. Mrs. Thomas H. Parrett, chaplain, gave the devotions.

A message from the president general was read by Mrs. Louis R. Bryant.

Following the secretary's report, Mrs. Robert S. Harper, vice regent, read a message from congressman William H. Harsha Jr. and other letters were read by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Jefferson.

Substituting for the absent national defense chairman, Mrs. O. D. Farquhar presented a short talk on national defense and reported on Constitution Week. She stated that churches, libraries and the news media all cooperated in the observance of the week, both in the county and throughout the nation.

Mrs. Homer Harrison read an article, "Church Attendance Versus Unions."

The regent thanked those present for the clothing brought for the box to be presented to the Kate Duncan Smith Schools. Miss Sara Durnell, chairman of DAR schools, will accept any more clothing to be contributed.

Miss Moore also announced that Mrs. John T. Dick's credentials have been accepted by the national committee.

Mrs. Frank Mayo displayed the Ohioana Yearbooks, which feature scenes of 1812.

The program chairman, Mrs. Harper introduced the speaker, Mrs. Loren D. Hynes, one of the chapter family and Southwest director. Mrs. Hynes quoted the national and state themes, "Prove All Things, Hold Fast That Which Is Good," and "Keep the Lines of Communication Open."

Mrs. Hynes stated that among the lines of communication are the national and Ohio DAR magazines. She also stated that the DAR is the most active of all patriotic organizations. She told of the sizeable amount of money collected at the Southwest luncheon for St. Mary's School for Indian Girls and stated that the Ohio DAR is a strong link in the national society.

Following Mrs. Hynes' talk, Miss Moore distributed questionnaires covering the work of all committees to each committee chairman.

A social hour followed with

Officers Elected By MHG Class

New officers were elected when members of the MHG Class of the First Presbyterian Church met in the church parlor Monday night. Mrs. P. M. Cook will be the president; Mrs. Logan Buzick, vice-president; Miss Jane Jefferson, secretary; Mrs. George Schiller, assistant secretary; Miss Drusilla Rodgers, treasurer, and Mrs. Ruah Harlow, assistant treasurer.

Mrs. O. D. Farquhar gave the devotions and conducted the business meeting. Mrs. C. S. Kelley, Mrs. Ralph Hays and Mrs. Farquhar were appointed to complete the memorial for the founder of the class, Mrs. Maggie Hopkins.

The hostesses, Mrs. Malcolm Evans, Mrs. W. O. Beatty, Mrs. Grace Goodwin, Mrs. Dwight Ireland and Mrs. M. Z. Klever, served a dessert course at the close of the meeting.

50 Million Americans Go To Polls Today

Control of the statehouse is considered the first and best step toward solid political organizing.

It has been a strange campaign throughout.

Here was John Fitzgerald Kennedy, riding in a motorcade through the Naugatuck Valley of Connecticut, speaking earnestly at a bean feed in St. Paul, trying to stir a listless crowd at the Muskegon, Mich., airport.

Everywhere the message was the same: Send me more Democrats so that I can get this country moving again, with Medicare, with more jobs, with better housing.

Here was Dwight D. Eisenhower acting far more politically heated than he ever did as President, stumping around the country with the enthusiasm of a young war horse.

From San Francisco to Boston, his plea was the same: Let's cut down on all this spending. Let's elect Republicans and have some sanity around here.

And then, the dramatic night of Oct. 22.

The Russians, the President said, were installing offensive nuclear weapons in Cuba, something this nation would not tolerate. He threw an offensive arms blockade around the island, and the United States and Russia moved toward a showdown.

With this, Kennedy canceled all his remaining campaign trips.

In the past two frantic weeks no one has been able to say with any accuracy what Cuba means politically. But it hasn't been for want of trying.

Will it really help Republicans—many of whom have been calling all along for a tougher line on Cuba? Or will it mean a tendency to rally around the President and vote Democratic as a sign of solidarity?

These off-year elections are hard to keep in focus because they lack two gladiators struggling for national attention as in a presidential race.

Instead, as the returns roll in tonight interest must be scattered from coast to coast.

Take Massachusetts. Young Edward M. Kennedy, the President's brother, decided he wanted to be a senator. He had only been out of law school three years, but here he is, at 30—minimum age for senators, expecting to get the President's and enough other votes to defeat George Cabot Lodge, comparatively seasoned at 35.

Now, a quick switch across the country to California.

Here Richard M. Nixon, Republican presidential candidate in 1960, has had a knockdown fight in his attempt to unhorse Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

If Nixon can win—and he never has lost an election in his home state—he may again get a try at the White House. If Brown can win—"I'm just an old shoe, but people feel comfortable with me"—it will probably mean political curtains for Nixon, at the age of 49.

Jumping back to New York—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is a politician with a most unusual problem. His friends say, they wish he had a tougher opponent than Robert M. Morgenthau, an almost unknown Democrat. The Republican theory is that Rockefeller would have won big anyway, and now his boosters think he may be handicapped in presidential consideration because he didn't beat a first-stringer.

Then there are the Republican seedlings in Michigan and Pennsylvania who may grow into presidential timber:

George Romney, the former automaker on his first drive into politics, hoping to defeat Gov. John B. Swainson and end a 14-year-old hold Democrats have had on the Michigan statehouse.

William W. Scranton, another young man in a hurry, who after one term in Congress wants to be Pennsylvania's governor.

But the interest isn't exclusively around potential presidential candidates.

Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois, hoping to return to his job as GOP Senate leader, Alexander R. Wiley, 78, who has been in the Senate since 1939, longer than any other Republican, in a tough race with Wisconsin Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson. Abraham A. Ribicoff, Kennedy's former secretary of welfare, trying to win the Connecticut Senate seat in a race against Rep. Horace Seely-Brown Jr., a Republican who has served six terms in the House.

For the record: 52 congressmen have already dropped by the wayside, through death, retirement, resignation or defeat. Among those retiring are the oldest man in Congress, Rep. Brent Spence, a Democrat from Kentucky, throwing in the towel at 88, and Republican Reps. Clare Hoffman, 87, of Michigan, John Taber, 82, of New York and Noah Mason, 80, of Illinois.

At one time the ancient Romans passed a law governing the color of women's dresses that could be worn at parties and funerals.

Former Columbus Mayor To Address PTA Groups

M. E. Sensenbrenner, former mayor of Columbus and nationally known youth worker, will be the speaker at a National Education Week meeting in the Washington High School auditorium Wednesday night, Nov. 14.

His appearance here is being sponsored by the City PTA Council. All Washington C. H. PTA groups and the public are invited to attend.

Sensenbrenner, a native of Circleville, presently is State Highway Department coordinator of motorist service for the interstate system.

HE IS past vice president of the Boy Scouts of America and holds the Silver Beaver Award, the highest award a layman can receive in Scouting. He has been active in Scouting for more than 40 years and is now a member of the BSA executive board.

He also is a past vice president of the Camp Fire Girls, a member of the Big Brothers Association, the Boys Club of America, the Kiwanis Club, Elks, Eagles, Moose and the Agonis Club.

PRIOR to becoming mayor of Columbus, an office which he expects to seek again, Sensenbrenner was investigator and chief clerk for the Ohio Civil Service Commission over a period of 19 years. He served as mayor of the Capital City from 1954 to 1960.

An elder of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church and a Bible class teacher for more than 30 years, he currently is heading a drive for a new Hilltop YMCA in Columbus.

He has two sons, one of them a Presbyterian minister.

Sensenbrenner has not yet announced the subject of his address here, but it will be based on his experience in working with young people.

National Education Week will be observed from Nov. 11 through Nov. 17.

Ohio Governor Race To Draw Top Interest

DiSalle concluded his reelection campaign with a television question and answer broadcast from stations here and in Cincinnati, Cleveland, Toledo and Zanesville. He planned to await returns at the Governor's Mansion. The governor voted in his hometown of Toledo by absentee ballot Oct. 22. Mrs. DiSalle voted there the previous day.

Rhodes turned out early to vote here and planned to await returns at home with his family. He issued a pre-election statement describing his campaign as positive and constructive and urging Ohioans to vote their convictions.

Creating considerable impact on the campaign in its closing days were two grand jury investigations. One of them, delving into complaints by a distiller that he paid to have his bourbon listed for sale in state liquor stores, is in recess until after election.

The other grand jury reported no basis for indictments on charges by DiSalle of fraud in Rhodes' office. The governor accused the auditor of charging machines used by state examiners in auditing their books. Two accounting firms, in addition to the jury, reported finding no evidence of fraud, but DiSalle, an attorney, said his own investigation would continue regardless of the election.

An important facet of the election is control of the 1963 General Assembly. All 137 House seats will be filled for two-year terms. Republicans expect to retain control but are not so sure about the Senate. In the upper house, 19 of 33 seats will be filled. Holdovers occupy the other 14 because of staggered, four-year terms in the Senate.

All state officials, except judicial, will be elected simultaneously to four-year terms for the first time since Ohio shifted from two-year terms. The chief justice and two Ohio Supreme Court judges will be elected to six-year terms.

An unusual contest pits Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant, Lakewood Democrat, against Judge Kingsley A. Taft, Columbus Republican elected two years ago to a six-year term. Weygant has served as chief justice since 1933.

Supreme Court candidates were nominated in partisan primaries but run on non-partisan ballots in the November election.

Licking County Man Named 'Dad Of Dads'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — J. Kermit Anderson, 51, of Alexandria in Licking County has been named Ohio State University's "Dad of Dads."

Anderson, father of four and president of the Alexandria Bank, will represent all Ohio State fathers during Dad's Day activities Saturday on campus. Anderson's oldest son, 22-year-old John, is a fifth-year engineering student at the university.

Jailed For Contempt, City Policeman Resigns

Simon White Jr., Washington C. H. police patrolman, began serving a 10-day sentence in the Fayette County jail Monday afternoon for contempt of court.

Sheriff Don Thompson took White into custody at police headquarters after the officer was allowed to submit his resignation from the police department to City Manager David Foell.

Judge John P. Case, on Sept. 6, found White in contempt for failure to comply with a court order issued last March in a divorce action brought by his wife, Virginia Lee.

He gave White 60 days in which to make a "conscientious effort" to comply with an order to make regular payments on a home mortgage and other obligations.

Judge Case Monday found White "wilfully failed and neglected to comply with this order." He ordered the sheriff to take White into custody to begin serving the 10-day sentence.

FOELL SAID after the Sept. 6 hearing that White's continued employment with the city would depend on his ability to purge himself of the contempt conviction.

A Civil Service examination will be held 7:30 p. m. Saturday to establish an eligibility list from which the police department vacancy will be filled.

Application forms may be obtained at the city auditor's office. They must be returned by Saturday noon.

The examination had been scheduled earlier to establish the eligibility list from which possible vacancies would be filled.

Cleveland Tot Is Named 'Miss Christmas Seal'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ann Marie Fitzgerald, 4-year-old blonde chosen Little Miss Christmas Seal for 1962, is to present President Kennedy with the first sheets of 1962 Christmas Seals Wednesday. The Washington ceremony will open this year's campaign for funds to combat tuberculosis.

Ann Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Fitzgerald of Cleveland had tuberculosis and was cured. Her mother and brother also were cured of the disease.

This is the look of things to come in modern motor car styling.

It's the 1963 Cadillac—a motor car so beautiful and so tempting it is difficult to resist.

The new look in Cadillacs combines formality and youthfulness, majesty and vigor in a way that is predictably trend-setting.

And it belongs to Cadillac alone. You won't see any others with that sweeping expanse of hood and deck that gives the 1963 Cadillac its unique look of vitality and power.

And its discerning use of chrome and adornment welcomes a new purity of form in automotive design.

Of course, there's a great deal more than styling in this new Cadillac that is worthy of emulation.

There are Cadillac's beautiful and luxurious new interiors—and Cadillac's remarkable new performance—and Cadillac's unprecedented choice of personal appointments and accessories—and Cadillac's unrivaled dependability and value.

Cadillac is now more clearly than ever before the Standard of the World.

The thing to do is to see and drive one of the twelve brilliant new models and get the whole Cadillac story for 1963. And for a full year at the wheel, do it before another week goes by.

The meeting was adjourned at 5 p.m. by President Sharon Young.

The College Of Your Choice

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a regular series of informative articles describing the institutions of higher learning for those who would like to scan the field.

Many of the seniors have decided to go on to college, but they have little idea of the various opportunities open to them.

There are many fine colleges in Ohio. Every week we will describe one of them so that the student body has an opportunity to become acquainted with them. We are starting with Miami University at Oxford.

Miami is a state-supported university. Since 1809 when the university was established, it has maintained high academic standards. The science department is one of the finest in the world.

Although a liberal arts education is a tradition at Miami, the university offers a variety of instruction-

Take Five . . .

This Tuesday is Election Day. How many of our parents will exercise their right to vote? This is just one of the many freedoms that Americans tend to take lightly.

Last Tuesday and Thursday Miami Trace students voted for their class officers and Student Council representatives. The public schools cannot be wholly responsible for the youth of today. The parents, likewise, have their duty to set good examples for their children.

It is your privilege to vote for whomever you please but DO VOTE.

IT SEEMS that the athletic department is in high gear already with the 1962-63 school year just beginning. The freshman and reserve football teams have credited Miami Trace with a total of nine wins against one defeat. Furthermore, the fans with great defensive play in winning four, losing two close ones and tying two. Before meeting Circleville's ninth ranked "Terrific Tigers" in the league championship battle, they were rated 15th in the state Associated Press Poll.

What seems just as interesting is that many of the regular varsity players are sophomores and juniors. What does this suggest. . . you take it from there.

SPEAKING of good athletes returning, Mr. Hinton possibly wishes he had the "Tall Talented Ones", but if last year's records mean anything at all, he has the speedy and talented basketballers to initiate the new gymnasium this year.

Youthful Dance Combo Has Busy Schedule

By BOB THOMPSON

The Cavaliers — the band with the beat — was started by Jack Reid and Alan Yeoman several years ago and features Jack on lead guitar, Alan on rhythm guitar, Bert Lindsey on bass guitar, and me, Bob Thompson, on drums.

Jack Reid, a senior at Washington High School, is 17 years old. He was formerly a student at Jeffersonville and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reid. Jack's real interest is music. After graduation he plans to attend the Berkley School of Music in Boston.

Alan Yeoman, 17, a senior at Miami Trace High School is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Yeoman. He is a member of the Panthers football team and his hobbies are cars and bowling. Alan plans to attend college next year.

Bert Lindsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lindsey, is a sophomore at MTHS and is 15 years of age. Bert lists his hobbies as model cars and sports. He wants to major in engineering when he goes to college.

My parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson and I am a MTHS junior, almost 16 years old.

My interests are art, fossils, Indian relics and my drums. I hope to specialize in commercial art in college, and I want to learn to fly — in an airplane, of course.

The Cavaliers play rock and roll music, some jazz, and the standard pop ballads — "You name it, we'll play it."

The Student's Viewpoint

Do Americans Take Freedoms Passively?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of essays stimulated by the Pro-Americanism discussion groups in the speech classes. These are student opinions.

By LINDA SEAMAN

Most of us have our own interpretation of what the word Communist means, but do we really understand that the Communists interpret it two ways.

They show up the good points and kick the bad side so we won't be able to see them.

Of course, you can readily assure yourself that there are no Communists in Fayette County. But give that another moment's thought. How do you know?

Communists will never let their beliefs be known unless they want them known. We can't turn our backs to this any longer. We have to face it, and do it now for "tomorrow" may be too late.

Their target is the youth of America—the younger the better. They are attempting to downgrade patriotism in the schools and elsewhere.

THE COMMUNISTS are attempting to weaken our faith in God. This is a country that was founded on faith in God, but how many of us went to church last Sunday. Yet, if we were denied this privilege we would immediately flock to the churches and say we were denied one of our freedoms.

DO ANY of us really know the meaning of freedom?

We can say we have the freedom of speech, freedom of the press, etc. But in reality, there are very few things of which we, as Americans, have been deprived.

Very few of us know what it is like to be afraid of the knock on the door at night, the fear of not knowing if it is a neighbor who is locked out of his home or if it is the dreaded secret police.

How many of us have known the dread of night bombings? There are people who have lived through these horrors and survived, although we wonder how.

There are only a few of us who know the freedoms this country holds for us. We are given the right to go into our own business if we so desire. Our free enterprise system is another privilege we seldom count among our blessings.

WE, AS AMERICANS, don't fully realize our country's gift to us because we have always had it. Most of us have become conformists. We are no longer individuals in our thinking. Being patriotic is being "square."

We, as Americans, have rights. Rights which often seem trivial to us. One of these matters is voting. One of the greatest rights Americans have is the right to choose the man whom he thinks is good and right for the job.

Yet, 40 per cent of us neglect this duty. Why don't we exercise our duties as citizens?

Those who have known other rules realize our privileges, yet we don't. Why?

We must help preserve our country and its best characteristics in every way possible. Ours is a new way of life, new in relation to all others.

It has profited by the mistakes of others; it has grown to great capabilities, and we must keep it growing.

MTHS Seniors Learn 'All Good Things End'

EDITOR'S NOTE: "All good things must come to an end." The Miami Trace seniors are certainly finding this out. During the last year of high school, there are many sorrowful "last times". Last Friday night, the senior members of the marching band and the football team came to the end of their most popular and time-consuming extracurricular activities. It was the last home football game of the year and this meant that it was the last time for these seniors to perform on the Miami Trace football field. The following articles are how two seniors—a band member and a football player—feel about their years in these activities.

By JUDY LONG

One of my most enjoyable experiences while attending high school has been my participation as a member of the Miami Trace Marching Band.

The marching band is not all pleasure. There is a lot of work involved. Practices are from 3 to 5 p. m. daily when working on a new show. This continues regardless of the rain, snow, sleet, or heat. Many times this year, band members have had a difficult task of just lifting their feet out of the mud much less keeping a march tempo.

In each performance, we strive for perfection. Many hours of practice have been devoted to the drilling on the "8 to 5". This, for the clarification of people who have never been in a marching band, means executing eight steps to five yards. This enables the band to maintain straight lines while marching down the field without having to look to the right of left.

The music for each band show must be completely memorized. Special practices for memorization are held at the beginning of each week.

Now I'm afraid that I may have left you with the impression that marching band is all drudgery. This is not true. One of the greatest advantages in being a member is the fun and fellowship we enjoy together. We learn to become a part of and to cooperate with a group. Also, it is true that there is much satisfaction and a very definite pride in participating as a member of the marching band.

In conclusion, I wish to take this opportunity to thank our band director, Walter Hurd, and our assistant band director, Carmen Masola, on behalf of the seniors and other members of the marching band for the excellent leadership and understanding they have given us throughout the season.

BY A FOOTBALL PLAYER

Sports in general, and football in particular, have played an important part in the shaping of my personality during my high school days. I have learned self-discipline and developed the will to win.

As one of my coaches once said, "Nothing good comes easy." Therefore there were certain hardships to be encountered. I found it necessary to budget my time between practice and homework and contribute my share of work towards helping my family operate our farm which provides for our source of income.

Another hardship, perhaps, was the long, dreary hours spent on the practice field. Especially before school started, the hours seemed like days as we ran through play after play, drill after drill. But these hours are forgotten and the moments of joy and excitement are remembered when you win.

I am extremely proud of the people with whom I have been associated while participating in different sports. It is also very gratifying to meet the people from other schools with whom we competed and exchange greetings. These people are great friends. I would never have had a chance to meet them had I not been associated with a sports program.

I feel I have been blessed with a great coaching staff and my memories of my days as a football player will always remain with me.

Seniors Of The Week

Tomorrow's Citizens

JEAN OWENS

We salute Miss Jean Owens, a citizen of tomorrow, who is very active in school, church and many other activities.

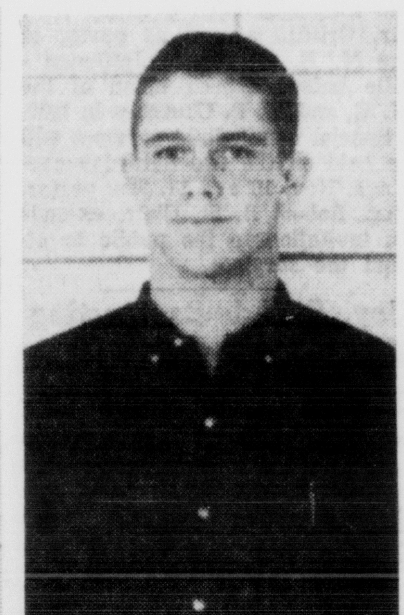

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Owens, Jeffersonville, she is a member of the National Honor Society. Jean has been a member of the Future Teachers of America at Jeffersonville High School which she has attended for the past three years. She plans to study elementary education at Ohio State University.

Jean, who is interested in promoting Americanism, is the president of the Jeffersonville MYF at the Jeffersonville Methodist Church. She attended the McClain Movement at Greenfield, the purpose of which is to strengthen the morals of youth and give them a better knowledge of the principles of democracy.

She has been in 4-H for eight years. She is the advisor of her own club and secretary of both the Junior Fair Board and the Junior Leadership Club. Last summer she went to Wisconsin as a member of the junior leadership exchange group.

Jean's hobbies are reading and music. She enjoys playing piano and is a member of both the concert and marching bands.

By Janet Hare

DAVID CRAIG

One of our most active members of the senior class is David Craig. He is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Harry Craig, Bloomington, both of whom teach at Miami Trace. Dave attends the Presbyterian Church at Bloomington, of which he has been a member of for 13 years.

He is also very active in 4-H work. Dave is a member of the Blue Ribbon Champs Club and has been an officer for five of the seven years he has belonged. He is now vice president of the Junior Leadership Club, a member of the Junior Fair Board, was a Junior 4-H Camp Counselor this summer and also a Junior Fair superintendent.

Dave's main interest is sports—football. He plays end on the Miami Trace squad, basketball and track. He is also in the concert band and chorus.

But with all these activities he doesn't neglect his subjects in school. He is taking a college preparatory course, but his college plans are not definite yet. He has placed at the state level in the district scholarship tests for the past three years. He also ranked in the 97 percentile in the National Merit Scholarship Test given in his Junior year.

New Coral Curtain Installed In MTHS Auditorium

By CHUCK MCCOY

The house lights dim. The murmur of the audience quiets. The stage curtain folds silently back—

This scene will occur several times this year in the Miami Trace auditorium. Recently the new stage curtain was installed.

It is a coral shade matching the color scheme of the auditorium. It has drawn many favorable comments from both students and faculty.

The stage is a three-layer one. The area in front of the new curtain is the first area. A second curtain will be installed at a later date to divide the stage area behind the curtain into the second and third areas.

seats look onto a highly polished stage lit by most modern equipment available. Its colors are soothing to the eye, and the acoustics are wonderful.

This new stage curtain completes the decorous atmosphere of our auditorium. We students have respect bordering on awe for this auditorium and will try to preserve its beauty.

Driver Education Students Launching Active Program

Driver Education students at Miami Trace feel that they have possibly have one of the best programs in the state.

The classrooms are adequate and the classes are small enough that all of the members of one class can go out together as one group, and drive.

Before the Miami Trace High School was built, only three of the county schools offered Driver Education to the students. They were Bloomington, Jeffersonville, New Holland.

Students at Good Hope and Madison Mills didn't have the opportunity to enroll in these classes. Now that the new school has been built, everyone has an opportunity to enroll and should take advantage of it.

Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur and Patrolman Chester D. Stratton of the Ohio Highway Patrol have talked to the group about traffic laws. Patrolman Stratton showed a movie entitled, "Mechanized Death", which was very appropriate.

The Driver Education instructors chose eight students to attend an annual Safety Conference held at Wittenberg University in Springfield. The group was accompanied by Sheriff Don Thompson, Mr. Don Hinton, and the Driver Education instructor, Mr. Ralph Tate. The students brought back many ideas about how to include formation of a Safety Club. Students have contacted Judge Omar A. Schwartz and he has offered to assist.

JIM NEWELL was elected safety president for Fayette County. Cherie Bostwick was elected president for Miami Trace High School. Together with the Driver Education students, these two students will work with other Driver Education students to show how important safety behind the wheel is and to express the fact that students today are tomorrow's drivers.

The Driver Education department is equipped with a 1963 model black and white, standard shift Ford Galaxie donated by the Carroll Halliday agency and a beige colored, automatic Buick Sabre donated by Ray Brandenburg.

The students hope that the parents will get behind the student body in their attempt to promote traffic safety.

Last Games Of Season In SCO Friday--Race Is For Runner-Up Spot

Now that Circleville's Tigers are firmly ensconced on the South Central Ohio League 1962 football throne, most interest here in the final games of the season Friday night is in the tussles for the runner-up spot and the cellar.

And that does not imply that there will not be some reshuffling in the mid-section of the standing in the eight-team circuit or that there is not considerable interest in the games which could bring it about.

Although the unbeaten and untied Tigers were given a scare last Friday when they whipped the

76 From Here At Cleveland For Grid Game

Fayette County was well represented at the professional football game between the Browns and Philadelphia Eagles in Cleveland Sunday.

Thirty-seven adults left Bloomington Saturday noon in a bus chartered by the Bloomington Lions Club and 32 boys of the Big Boy pony football squad and their friends and seven adults left the Gardner Parkfield house in six private cars at 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

The 18 couples on the bus spent Saturday night in the Sheraton-Cleveland Hotel, saw the Browns and Eagles play to a 14-14 tie in the afternoon and then boarded the bus at the stadium for the return trip. After stopping at the San-Dar Restaurant near Mansfield for a smorgasbord supper, they arrived back home about 10:30 p.m.

Making the trip by bus were Mr. and Mrs. James T. Perrill, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Recob, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Denen, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. George Wonderleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Milbourne Barney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Snapp, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schlichter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Slager, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Schlichter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sagar, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Coffman, two couples from Dayton and John Brown.

The Big Boys, who had a record of two and two in the Pony League, arrived at the Cleveland stadium in time for the kickoff, despite the problems some of the drivers had in keeping together and finding their way.

They stopped near Medina for supper and got home about 10 p.m.

The trip was arranged for the Big Boys by their coaches, Tom Vermillion and Jim Aleshire.

Patterson Seeks Liston Title Shot

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, apparently ready to emerge from a six-week hibernation, wants to fight Sonny Liston again and will ask New York a license to box in the state.

This was disclosed today by promoter Tom Bolan. The vice president of Championship Sports Inc. said he had talked with Patterson Monday and the former champion told him he is anxious to fight Liston "as soon as possible."

"Patterson told me he plans to begin training next week in Highland Mills, N.Y.," said Bolan. "He is very anxious for the return match, and wants it to be held in New York."

Brown Says Ryan To Be Better QB

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown says he is confident that Frank Ryan will settle down and get better in his job as quarterback for the Cleveland Browns.

"I told Frank to get his nose up in the air and start thinking of the next one," the coach said Monday night as preparations were started for the return game with the Redskins in Washington Sunday.

Ryan was unhappy with his performance against the Philadelphia Eagles here Sunday when he made his first start as a replacement for injured Jim Ninowski, but Brown wasn't critical of his new quarterback.

Logan Kegler Shares Pro-Am Tourney Cash

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Don Carter, the nation's No. 1 bowler, rolled a 722 series Monday night as he and teammate Jim Daly of Collingswood, N.J., won the pro-amateur preliminary to the Professional Bowlers Association's third annual tournament.

Ed Thomas, Logan, Ohio, and Dr. Richard Citta, Levittown, Pa., were among the top finishers in the preliminary. They rolled a 1,314 series to place fifth.

Palmer, Snead Head U.S. Team

Canada Cup Tourney Slated In Argentina

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead, expected to carry the United States to its third straight title, open serious practice today for the 10th annual Canada Cup golf competition.

Palmer flew in late Monday from Miami to join the veteran Snead, who arrived a day earlier and marched right out to fire a 3-under-par 67 in a practice round on the 6,746-yard, par 70 Red course where the international tournament opens Thursday.

Palmer said he had gained 11 pounds and was up to 180 after a three-week vacation during which he played little golf.

"That's too much weight for me," said the Latrobe, Pa., power hitter who generally is considered the world's best golfer. "But a couple practice rounds ought to get me in shape."

Palmer said he was concerned about his putting, shaky the last few months, and Snead was nursing a sore left foot. Otherwise, the favored Americans seem ed about ready for the four-day, 72-hole test against two-man teams from 3 other countries.

Snead won the individual title last year in Puerto Rico, and paired with Jimmy Demaret for the team championship after Palmer was refused permission to compete because of previous PGA commitments at home.

Snead and Palmer had teamed to win the 1960 title in Dublin. The top threats to the Americans here figure to be the South African team of Gary Player and Denis Hutchinson; the Australian twosome of Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson, and the Argentine team of Roberto de Vicenzo and Fidel de Luca.

Player, the U.S. PGA champion, is due today from Australia, where he won the Australian Open last weekend. Nagle and Thomson are coming with him.

Toledo '11' Voted No. 1 Ohio Rating

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio sports writers took advantage of this election day to vote a brand new team—Toledo Central Catholic—into first place in the Associated Press high school football poll.

And if coach Tom McHugh's Fighting Irish can hang on for one more week they'll become the first team outside of Northeast Ohio to take the state championship and the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy.

The winner of next week's poll, following the Nov. 9-10 games, will be awarded the championship. Since the poll was inaugurated in 1947, it has been won by Massillon nine times, Canton McKinley twice, and once each by Barberton, Cleveland Benedictine, Alliance and Niles McKinley—all from the upper right-hand corner of the state.

But with Lima Senior beating Alliance, Fremont Ross upsetting Massillon, Toledo Devilbiss turning back Alliance and Toledo Central Catholic defeating Steubenville's Big Red 20-12, the balance appears to be shifting to the West.

Northwestern, Southern Cal Top Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The rash of weekend upsets caused the biggest shakeup of the year today in the college football rankings but Northwestern clung to the No. 1 position and found a potential Rose Bowl rival, Southern California, breathing down its neck.

Missouri, Wisconsin and Minnesota moved into the top ten, replacing Michigan State, Washington and Auburn, although not in the same spots. The order underwent considerable juggling.

Behind Northwestern and Southern California, The Associated Press' weekly poll placed Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Wisconsin, Louisiana State, and Minnesota.

Northwestern, which barely squeezed past Indiana 26-21 on a late rally, didn't command the big block of first-place votes showered on it a week ago.

The Wildcats received 24 of the No. 1 ballots—less than half of the 49 cast by a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters—with 9 each going to Alabama and Mississippi, 6 to Southern Cal and 1 to Texas. Southern Cal, 14-0 winner over Washington, had strong support for the second, third and fourth slots.

Points are computed on the basis of ten for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc. Northwestern had 442 points compared with 409 for the Big Six conference power house.

Army Hints It Could OK Bowl Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—After years of shunning any and all forms of post-season play, an Army football team may go to a bowl for the first time at the end of this season.

Coach Paul Dietzel, in revealing such a possibility Monday in a talk before the New York Football Writers, said there were two big "ifs."

"The academy's stand on the matter is unchanged," said the young mentor who, in his first year as head coach, has revived the football fortunes at West Point. "I have been told the authorities would agree to a bowl appearance on two conditions."

"First, Army must have a team that would do the academy credit. "Second, the trip must be made without inconvenience to the players or the Academy."

"Personally," Dietzel added, "I'd like a third condition of my own. I'd want the players to want to play in a bowl game. It should be a reward for a team, not a chore."

Army has a record of six victories and one defeat, losing only to Michigan. Sponsors of the Orange and Gator bowls are re-

Cagers Shun Fixer's Cash

NEW YORK (AP) — Aaron Wagman, admitted briber of basketball players, testified Monday that he was not always successful in his attempts to get collegians to dump games.

Wagman was the first prosecution witness in the trial of Jacob L. (Jack) Molinas, being tried in State Supreme Court on charges of bribing a Bowling Green, Ohio, basketball player, and conspiracy and subornation of perjury.

Wagman, 28, of the Bronx, said he began his arrangement with Molinas, former Columbia University basketball player, in November 1957. Also present at the meeting, Wagman, said, were Joseph Hacken and Joseph Green.

Hacken, 42, has had a long record of gambling arrests. Green, 36, is a friend of Wagman's.

Wagman said he and Green arranged to have Richard Hoffman, 25, of Columbia, S. C., a guard, dump a University of South Carolina game with the University of Georgia at the 'Gator Bowl' tournament in Jacksonville, Fla. Dec. 29, 1957.

Wagman told of unsuccessful attempts to bribe a Brown University player and also a University of Alabama player.

The trial is being heard by Justice Joseph A. Sarafite and a jury of eight men and four women.

200 Basketball Coaches

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati says more than 200 high school basketball coaches are expected for a day-long coaching clinic Saturday.

The speakers include coach Ed Jucker of Cincinnati; coach Tom Blackburn of Dayton; coach Julius Ritter of Madison, Ind., and Oscar Robertson and Jack Twyman of the Cincinnati Royals.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

STIMULATING aspects will prevail from noon on and, after a somewhat "dull" morning, you should feel mentally alert and surer in judgment. This will be the time to launch new projects—especially if they require a bit of daring.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, the next eight months should bring job progress and a considerable improvement in your financial status. The occupational headway may involve additional responsibilities but, rather than regarding them as burdensome, you should feel stimulated at the challenge to step ahead. The accumulation of cash between mid-December and late February is extremely likely, and another good period along monetary lines is indicated in mid-1963.

Be careful to avoid extravagance or speculation during March and April, however.

December and January, as well as the period between June and September, should prove broadening from a social standpoint, but be alert to possible tension in domestic circles late this month and/or in February. Look for some interesting romantic developments in late December, in June and August; also a possible chance to travel within the same periods.

A child born on this day will have the ability to face the upheavals of life with great fortitude and will be highly capable along musical lines.

Trucker Held In Death Of 6 Teachers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Traffic manslaughter charges were filed Monday against a Cleveland man whose truck slammed into a car and killed six Akron school teachers.

The truck driver, Justin J. Geratis, 43, pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing in Garfield Municipal Court. He was bound over to the county grand jury under $50,000 bond.

The car-truck collision occurred late Friday on the Willow Freeway about a half mile north of Ohio 17. Cuyahoga Heights police chief Frank Bartczak said Geratis apparently fell asleep and his truck crossed the center strip, brushed two other cars, then plowed into the auto bearing the teachers.

Geratis had said earlier that he could not recall anything before his truck piled head-on into the car with the teachers.

White lines to designate traffic lanes were introduced in Boston in 1919.

Loss Of Pigs Brings $4,962 Court Action

Howard A. Page, Wilmington, seeks $4,962.20 in damages from Robert L. Stuckey, Rt. 2, Sabina, in a suit filed in Fayette County Common Pleas Court for the loss of allegedly diseased pigs purchased from Stuckey.

The petition states that Page purchased 168 feeding pigs from the defendant on May 4, 1962, paying $14.50 each, and removing them to his own farm the same day.

On the next day, the petition alleges, the pigs began displaying evidence of serious illness, and from May 7 to June 30, 120 of the pigs died and the remaining 48 were adversely affected, with only 36 maturing to normal marketing weight and condition.

The plaintiff states that he relied on the defendant's superior knowledge of the condition of the pigs and did not know the pigs were diseased nor could he know by reasonable inspection.

Because of the diseased pigs, the plaintiff's farm was quarantined by the State Department of Agriculture from June 8 to July 7, 1962, and he was prohibited from marketing or removing any swine, the petition states.

By reason of the defendant's "breach of implied warranty" as to the fitness of the pigs, the petition contends Page lost the purchase price of 120 pigs or $1,740, the loss of $222.20 in feed and work and labor and other expenses totaling $3,000.

MARRIAGE APPLICATION

James Darrell Polk, 23, Rt. 1, Sabina, U. S. Army, and Ann Ducey Carter, 25, of 110 E. Circle Ave., secretary.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Janet F. Clickner, a minor, by Hazel Curtis, 728 Eastern Ave., her next friend, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court for a divorce from Francis K. Clickner, Rt. 3, charging gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty.

The petition states that the parties were married in Washington C. H. May 28, 1960, and have one child. The plaintiff asks custody of the child, support and alimony.

Police Investigate

Two-Car Collision

City police investigated a minor two-car collision Monday afternoon, involving automobiles driven by Orrin D. Farquhar, 76, of 522 E. Market St., and Brian P. Mickle, 19, of 332 N. Main St. Mickle's car, stopped at the Court - North traffic light, was struck in the side by the other car, turning east from North St., connected to a low truck. Damage to both vehicles was light.

Hobby Club To Meet

Homer H. Harrison, president of the Fayette County Hobby Club, has announced that the next meeting will be held Friday at 6:30 in the City Building. A covered dish supper, short business session, program and exhibits are on the agenda.

Horse Kicks Man On Chin

Alva Hanrers, 807 Clinton Ave., was one of three emergency patients treated in Memorial Hospital Monday. Kicked on the chin by a horse, he was treated for lacerations and released.

Others treated and discharged were:

Lavenia Lysinger, 65, Rt. 2, New Holland, who received lacerations on her left leg in a fall from a porch;

Jack Powell, 16, son of Mrs. Otto Powell, 1010 E. Paint St., who received lacerations on his forehead in a bicycle spill.

Business News

New Kroger Store Opens Next Week

The new Kroger Market on S. Main St. will be formally opened Wednesday, Nov. 14.

The new building, which was started on the site of the Farm Bureau implement department building a little more than four months ago, was virtually completed about two weeks ago.

Trucks have been unloading new stocks of merchandise for the past week. Many of the shelves are already well filled, although more merchandise will be brought in between now and the opening day.

Scott Harner, the manager, said. Frozen foods are being stocked now in the refrigeration units, which have been under test operation for three weeks, but the fresh meats and produce will not be brought in until next Monday and Tuesday.

The new store, with approximately 13,000 square feet in the retail area, is more than twice as big as the old store which has 6,000 square feet. The new store also will have about 4,500 square feet in the preparing (packaging of produce and meats) and warehouse areas.

Stocks are all being sold out in the old store, 214 W. Court St., which was opened in 1949. Harner said everything will be cleaned out during a special sale at discount prices this weekend. The store will be closed permanently at the close of business Saturday night.

The old store had a staff of 29 employees, but Harner said the staff will be increased when the new store is opened.

The future of the old store building, which the company has under lease from Tom Hartman until 1964 is uncertain.

DEMONSTRATES ARRANGING

Jan Garrison, of the Marilee Flower Shop, is at Gregg's Department Store in Lima this week, doing professional designing of artificial floral arrangements for the Good Art Company of California.

While in Lima she will make radio and television appearances, explaining the art and uses of artificial flower arranging.

Completely pure substances are unknown to chemistry. Common sugar is the purest, with an average of more than 99.9 per cent pure sucrose.

COUNT TO THREE, AND IT'S ALL OVER—There's no cause for alarm, more than 700 Washington C. H. students discovered Monday, in receiving a tuberculin skin test. It's all over before you know it. Administering the test (at left) is Miss Gretchen Darlington, Fayette County public health nurse; the three sophomore girls from left are Dixie Howland, 18, daughter of Mrs. Marie Myers, 605 Campbell St.; Carol Morris (receiving test), 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morris, 252 Henkle St.; and Leslie Hopkins, 15, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Hopkins, 1049 Broadway. At right is Public Health Nurse Opal Stoops, Rt. 3, Greenfield.

744 City School Pupils Receive Tuberculin Tests

Exactly 744 pupils in grades 1, 7, 10 and 11 at the city's five elementary schools and Washington High School received tuberculin skin tests Monday. Miss Gretchen Darlington, Fayette County senior public health nurse, reported Tuesday.

Results of the tests will be read Wednesday, and the names of those few students who are "reactors" will be given to their physicians shortly after.

The Tuberculin Skin Testing Program was conducted in the city schools for the second consecutive year Monday. It is co-sponsored by the Fayette County Tuberculosis & Health Association and the Fayette County Health Department.

Administering the test besides Miss Darlington were: Mrs. Marie Patrick, Rt. 4, Prairie Rd., public health nurse; Mrs. Lee Rowe, Rt. 6, and Mrs. William Lucas, 443 Warren Ave., volunteers from the Fayette County Nurses' Association.

Assistant volunteers from the Tuberculosis and Health Association were Mrs. George Finley, 823 Willard St.; Mrs. Robert Goodson, Mt. Olive Rd.; Mrs. Dwight Martin, 317 Western Ave.; and Mrs. Glenn Chaney, 127 Clearview Rd. The skin tests will be administered in the Miami Trace District schools next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. FDR Is Too Ill To Cast Vote Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, seriously ill at her apartment here, can't vote today—even by absentee ballot.

A family spokesman explained that she did not have an absentee ballot because when she went to a hospital at the end of September "no one had the slightest idea she would not be well enough to vote herself at Hyde Park as per usual."

The 78-year-old former First Lady was reported "resting quietly" Monday, but her condition was said to be unchanged.

Judge 'Shudders' At Traffic Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—"I shudder at the magnitude of this crime." Municipal court Judge Edward S. Crudele uttered these words at a hearing Monday in suburban Garfield Heights where Justin J. Geratis, truck driver involved in a collision in which six Akron school teachers died, pleaded innocent to a traffic manslaughter charge.

Bond was set at $50,000 for Geratis, 41. He was held to the grand jury and sent to County Jail in default of the bond.

Geratis had been in Cuyahoga Heights jail since Friday, when his truck, authorities said, crossed the center line on the Willow Freeway near Ohio 17, brushed two cars and hit the auto in which the teachers were riding.

Lint In Floor Furnace

Sends Firemen To Home

Firemen extinguished a small blaze in a floor furnace at the home of Charles H. Callender, 131 Laurel Rd., at 4:15 p.m. Monday. Fire Captain M. L. Denen said the fire was started when accumulated lint inside the furnace ignited, causing considerable smoke.

There was no fire damage to furniture or other household furnishings.

Firemen made another run later Monday afternoon to the 900 block of Forest St. where a small fire had started in the motor of a car owned by Melvin Garrison, 731 Willard St. There was only light damage.

The first so-called depression in the United States was from about 1785 to 1789.

MEMO . . . From Martie

Tuesday, November 6, 1962

Dear Folks:

This is to announce that the Martha Washington Shop is starting soon a new department --- "Martha's Miniatures". We will have infants, toddlers and some larger sizes in both boys and girls wear. As you know, the merchants in W. C. H., try to bring to you the best in merchandise. Our Department is not in competition, but in addition to the many varied children's fashions being brought to you by our other merchants. We all try to save you the tiresome trip of having to shop out of town.

I have tried to find unusual, adorable, and reasonable selections for "Martha's Miniatures". Our shop will open soon with entrance on South North Street. Watch our ad for the opening date.

Meanwhile, we still have some wonderful buys in beautiful furs. I have never seen such luxurious furs so reasonably priced. This is the time to come in and select one for Christmas.

We have many other unusual gifts arriving daily. A shipment of lovely robes arrived this week. Early selections are the choice ones.

Yours,
Martie

Breezeway window goes down—Mercury sales go up...up!

WHY DOES THIS BREEZEWAY REAR WINDOW help sell so many Mercury Montereys? This is styling that works! The recessed rear window stays clearer in rain or snow. It opens for controlled Flo-Thru ventilation. More wind, traffic noise and weather are shut out because the side windows can stay closed. The rear-window angle cuts glare, aids rear visibility. The extended Breezeway roof adds rear-seat headroom, shades passengers from the sun. See how practical elegance can be!
